

THE EXETER INTERNATIONAL DIFFERENCE

Each year there are more and more people travelling the world, to more and more destinations.

We don't think that this means the world is getting smaller, just more crowded. This is the reality of the world today. When you travel with Exeter International we can't promise you that there will be no crowds but we can promise you that we have done as much as we can to smooth the way for you.

Come with us backstage to some of Europe's finest theatres – The Mariinsky and the Bolshoi in Russia, the Estates Theatre in Prague and the Opera House in Riga.

Have a private tour of the Strahov monastery in Prague, the Amber Workshops in St Petersburg, the Koliba Film Studios in Bratislava, the Mariinsky Presidential Palace in Kiev; enjoy a wine tasting at the Massandra vineyards in Yalta, a private dinner in a Madrassa in Samarkand or sit down to a meal in the home of a local family in Suzdal.

And once you are there we want to take you past the sign that says 'No entry to the public;' because isn't that always where one wants to go? We work closely with curators and museum directors so that we can take you inside to see, for example, the restoration of a Romanov church in Tsarskoe Selo, or the incredible Faceted Palace and Terem in the Kremlin. We call them because that is what many of you have called them.

extraordinary experiences

The Exeter International difference is all about taking you behind the scenes, with our unique access, local knowledge and contacts.
