

“*It seems to me that a man must have faith,
or be seeking it,
otherwise his life is empty, quite empty.*”

Masha, The Three Sisters, Anton Chekhov, 1901